A Gay Multiracial Organization for All People

HISTORY

Over 30 years ago, BWMT was founded on behalf of those wishing for a safe environment where men of any ethnic background knew they wouldn't be rejected because of the color of their skin. The first four groups were organized in 1980 in San Francisco, Chicago, Boston and New York City. A year later our first convention was held in San Francisco.

Since 1997 the NABWMT has operated the Bush-Mallon Institute (BMI), named in honor of two NABWMT members. We conduct interactive Enlightenment Sessions on racism, diversity, and multiculturalism..

We have fought discrimination within the GLBT community such as blacks not being admitted into a key public places. We have worked hard for political action to get non-discrimination laws enforced.

Examples included picketing and inquiries into hiring practices of businesses in the GLBT community and on the sale of items that exploited perjorative stereotypes.

The major activities of NA include:

- A quarterly newsletter
- An inter-active web page
- Facebook pages
- A national convention
- The BMI Institute
- Health/HIV education
- Racism awareness
- Interracial social activities
- Student scholarships
- Local Chapters in over 20 cities
