

A Blueprint for Change:

Yes, we can, together!

We helped close out the last millennium with our well received 1999 Convention (And what great memories!). We're now preparing to close out the first decade of the New Millennium, with what we think will be an even more exciting, dynamic, and fulfilling experience.

Get ready to shake it up, talk it out, and lay it all down. In addition to our exciting entertainment schedule, we're planning engaging workshops, controversial debates and informative panel discussions.

We're going to take a good hard look at many of the issues facing our community, our organization and our lives: survival in the new millennium, diversity, transgender rights, health, sexism, violence, and engaging as well as protecting our LGBTQI youth.

Then, with the help of a diverse array of community organizations and your invaluable input, we're going to combine all of the great ideas into a realistic blueprint for change. Change to sustain and inform our collective future. So get ready for your fill of Philadelphia—its culture, cuisine, collaboration and creativity!
